Our Hosts - Bristol Astronomical Society

Bristol Astronomical Society (BAS) was originally formed in 1942 and currently has over 120 members. We are a very active society holding meetings throughout the year, weekly from October to June and then fortnightly during the lighter summer months. Our members range from interested novices to expert imagers and advanced theoretical astro-physicists. We are a very friendly group and visitors are always welcome to our meetings. BAS meets on Friday evenings at the Bristol Photographic Society in Montpelier, Bristol. Regular meetings are a mix of guest speakers, Member's talks, socials which may be a film night, quiz or even musical entertainment.

In addition, we have our observatory just south of Bristol which is opened to the public most clear Saturday evenings. We run star parties through the winter in conjunction with groups such as the Friends of Troopers Hill, Friends of the Downs & the National Trust at Dyrham Park. Details of all our activities can be found at: www.bristolastro.org.uk or follow us on Facebook for updates.
