

Death of a Former Member

A former Member passed away suddenly on 1953 August 13 in the person of Mr Hensley Cobb, of Caister-on-Sea. A Devonian by birth, he resided for many years in Market Harborough, where he did much work for the Variable Star Section of the Association. Mr Cobb was a man of great personal charm, and besides having a sound knowledge of astronomy, which he was always ready to impart to others, he possessed a keen appreciation of English literature. A wife and daughter mourn his loss.—G. C. WOOLDRIDGE
